Monthly Briefs ××× Master Template

[CLIENT] — [Month Year] Briefs

> How to use this template. Three briefs, one month, one client. Written in Week 3 of the cycle (Preproduction); Creative Director approves by end of that week. Everything traces to the client's Content Strategy (portal → Content Overview → Content Strategy). A brief never introduces anything the strategy doesn't contain; new ideas go into the strategy's idea bank first.
>
> Where each one lives in Notion
>
> - Shoot Brief (this is the one the client reads) → the Preproduction subtask of the month's Video Task on the Deliverable Tracker. The Client on the parent task routes it to the portal.
> - Graphics Brief → Graphic Design Board; set Client, Month, Deliverables, Designer, Date Range, Sizing, Deliverables Tracker.
> - Ads Brief → the ads board (or the month's Ads task), same Client relation.
>
> What is deliberately not in these briefs: gear, lighting, camera choices, crew roles, call times (the callsheet, built after approval); edit notes (the Edit Brief, after the shoot); posting plan and dates (the Content Calendar); pillar percentages and bucket math (one line is enough). Each piece is said once, in shooting order, with its idea, script and shots together.
>
> The tag on every piece: Pillar · Bucket · Job · Series. Replace every `[bracket]`; delete these instructions before sharing.

Shoot Brief

[Client] · [Month Year]

Goal: [one line, from the strategy: what this month has to move.]

Theme: "[name]." [One or two sentences, or "none; standard pillar work." A theme is time-bound.]

This month: [n] videos · [n] graphics · [n] posts. [Pillar 1] leads ([n] videos), then [Pillar 2] ([n]), then [Pillar 3] ([n]). Graphics are briefed on the Graphic Design Board ([page name]).

[Three to five] lines we repeat (said to camera at the end of each video; the client edits these before the shoot): "[message]" · "[message]" · "[message]"

Rules for every piece: [the two to four guardrails that matter most for this client, in one line each. Full checklist lives in the strategy.]

Shoot day

Day 1: [full day / half day] at [location], proposed [date or week]. Day 2 (if any): [location, length]. On camera: [who, by role].

Each video below is tagged Pillar · Bucket · Job · Series against the Content Strategy. Open a toggle for the idea, the script and the shots. Scripts are talking points; talent says it in their own words, one idea per video, and ends on the repeating line.

[Time of day] · [Pillar] ([who needs to be there])

[One line on why this segment comes first, if it matters: "team shot and portraits first, while everyone is there."]

▸ V# · [Title] · [Pillar] · [Bucket] · [Job] · [Series] · [length] · [talent] The idea: [one or two plain sentences: what happens, why it exists] Script (or Beats for a skit, or Prompts for an interview)

- Hook: "[first line, under three seconds]"
- [point]
- [point]
- Close: "[repeating line, said to camera]" Shots

- ☐ Talking head, tight and medium
- ☐ Insert: [what]
- ☐ End card: "[repeating line]" + [required disclosure]

▸ V# · [Title] · [tag] · [length] · [talent] The idea: Beats (improvise the lines)

- [beat]
- Alt punchlines, shoot all: (1) [ ] (2) [ ] (3) [ ] Shots

- ☐

Photos, [time of day]: P# [set: what, where, what it feeds] · P# [set]

[Time of day] · [Pillar]

▸ V# · [Title] · [tag] …

Photos, [time of day]: …

Day 2 · [Location]

P# [set]. [Co-branding rule if any.] Plus B-roll of [what].

If [a client / a partner / a location] is available on shoot day, [what to add and what moves to next month].

Still to confirm: [shoot date] · [talent] · [the repeating lines, edited by the client] · [the package]

In Notion, each ▸ is a toggle (`<details>`) so the page stays short until a video is opened. Group toggles by segment in shooting order. The ▸ block is the only place a video's idea, script and shots appear.
